THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 20th day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS B. KEEGH, Secretary.

The cause of the Republican party is greater than any man.

The census-takers begin their work to-day in every State in the Union.

The breaking of the unit rule will be a good start for the Republican campaign.

Has any one heard of a candidate for Vice President? It is hoped that the office will not have to go a-begging.

The Wisconsin Conference of the Methodist church will be held at Appleton on the 13th of October, and Bishop Harris will preside.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States, adjourned at Madison yesterday. It will meet next year at Buffalo.

There is a Democratic paper in Washington that "regrets" that Grant will not be nominated. That paper manifests its regrets too early. Grant may be nominated, and if he is it will wish before November that he had not been.

Among all of Grant's friends there are none more steadfast and enthusiastic than Senator Carpenter. He is now in Chicago and has been interviewed on the Presidential question. He believes that Grant will be nominated for two reasons, first that he is stronger than any other candidate; and second, he believes that the Convention will appreciate the fact. He also thinks that he will carry some of the Southern States, and will receive the solid German Republican vote. Carpenter believes in the unit rule and hopes to see it enforced in the Convention. When asked if there was any truth in the rumor that "Cameron, Logan, Conkling and Carpenter had entered into an alliance to secure the nomination of General Grant," he said there was not the slightest foundation for the rumor. He said every Senator and every American citizen, if he be not a fool, has a choice, and it is his duty to do what he can to nominate the man he thinks most likely to succeed.

Public sentiment on the Presidential question is almost as changeable as a weathercock. One day it "seems" that neither Grant nor Blaine can possibly get the nomination. On another day, there is hope that the anti-third term section in the Convention will be strong enough to overcome the Grant influence which will result in the nomination of Blaine. Again all this is changed, and the enthusiasm for Grant appears to be rapidly spreading, and certain signs indicate that he will carry the Convention by storm. At this writing there is no certainty of what the result will be. The Convention meets to-morrow noon, and nothing definite can be ascertained until it is organized and gets down to business. The Grant men are cheering over the prospects, and special pains will be taken to get as many of them in the Convention hall as possible, in hopes that their applause and cheers will outdo the other sides, and contribute largely to the success of their favorite candidate.

We apprehend that when the Convention makes a nomination, its work will be endorsed by the Republican party of the United States. Should the honor fall on General Grant, and such thing is very likely, there will not be that dissatisfaction which many fear will exist. When the campaign opens, such managers as Conkling, Cameron, and Logan, will be virtually lost sight of except on the stump, and the attention of the country will then be called to General Grant personally, and the Democratic nominee who ever that may be. As to General Grant the individual, the country has entire confidence in him. What he has done for this country can never be forgotten, and his administration, whatever objections may be raised to some of the men he employed in his service, will go down in history as one of the most economical this country ever had. This is a fact which official figures will sustain. We believe there are stronger men than Grant, but we do not believe that there is any considerable number of Republicans, however much they may be opposed to the third term, who will take the best candidate the Democrats could nominate, to General Grant. It is the cause and the principle the country look to, and those of the Democratic party are not such as our intelligent North will sustain.

SECRETARY SHERMAN.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—So much is said in the newspapers about Sherman accepting a place on the Grant ticket as Vice President that it causes the Secretary some annoyance. He expresses himself very emphatically on this point, namely, that he would not, under any circumstances, accept second place. He is a candidate for the first place on the ticket, and at no time has he been as confident of success as now.

THE COMMITTEE.

CHICAGO, May 31.—The skirmish between the Grant and anti-Grant members of the National Republican Committee, this evening, resulted in no great advantage to either side, except that the latter secured a reorganization of the committee in charge of the convention hall, and appointed a majority of its members from their own ranks, with Mr. Root, of Illinois for chairman. A resolution declaring against the enforcement of the unit rule was presented by Mr. Chandler, but Mr. Cameron refused to entertain it, and when Mr. Chase appealed from this decision, the chairman remarked that he was not aware that there was anything before the committee. His ruling was so arbitrary and was so unexpected that the anti-third termers were taken completely by surprise and passed to the consideration of other matters in order to give themselves time to collect their scattered thoughts. Hon. G. F. Hoar was then selected for temporary chairman of the convention, after which the committee adjourned. While it was apparent that the anti-third termers had a majority in the committee, there was at no time a record vote showing the exact strength of the factions.

Special to the Gazette.

LATER.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The Blaine members of the National Committee held a caucus at ten o'clock this morning, and voted to depose Cameron. In a meeting of a full committee it is doubtful if they have sufficient strength.

The excitement runs high, and the feeling is at almost white heat.

STILL LATER.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The National Committee is still in session and efforts are now being made to conciliate the factions.

THE LATEST.

CHICAGO, June 1—4 p.m.—The National Convention is still in session, but without arriving at any decision. The Grant men are in one room and the Blaine men in another. The friends of Grant are willing to yield Hoar as temporary chairman if he will not enforce the unit rule in the preliminary organization and allow the management of the building to a new committee of ten.

Secretary Sherman has sent a telegram to the Ohioans asking every man to vote according to his conscience, regardless of instructions.

The New Yorkers held a long secret session, and those having pledged not to support Grant will resign in favor of untrammelled attendants.

An unauthenticated rumor is afloat that General Grant has sent a letter withdrawing from the contest and favoring the nomination of Senator Conkling. There are other wild rumors afloat.

There is to be a monster meeting of Veterans this evening and a session of the Woman's Suffrage Association.

PRIZE FIGHTING.

Special to the Gazette.

COLLYAS, West Va., June 1.—The Goss-Ryan prize fight occurred at daylight this morning. There were a thousand spectators. Eighty-six rounds were fought when Ryan was declared the winner. It lasted one hour and forty minutes.

ANTI-THIRD TERM.

The Demonstration in Chicago—An Immense Gathering.

CHICAGO, May 31.—The anti-Grant mass-meeting this evening at the White Stocking base ball grounds was one of the largest political demonstrations ever held in Chicago. It is estimated that not less than fifteen thousand persons were present, and the enthusiasm from first to last was extraordinary. The speakers were Lieutenant Governor Shuman, Hon. O. C. Moore, of New Hampshire; Col. Fred Hassurek, of Cincinnati; Hon. Wayne Mac Veagh, of Pennsylvania; Judge Dittenhofer, of New York; E. C.

Hubbard, of Kentucky; Mr. Hall, of New York, and Mr. Posey, of Indiana. All of these gentlemen predicted the defeat of Grant, if he shall be nominated, and nearly all expressed a determination not to support him. The names of Senators Cameron, Logan, and Conkling were greeted with vociferous hisses whenever mentioned. When the oratorical part of the programme had been completed a series of resolutions declaring, in effect, that if Grant is made the nominee of the Chicago convention a bolt will be justified, were adopted without dissent.

DICK CONNOLLY'S DEATH.

The Companion of Tweed, Sweeney, and Others Dies in Marseilles, France—A Sketch of His Career—The Ring Operatives.

NEW YORK, May 31—Richard B. Connolly, notorious as Controller of New York in the days of the Tweed Ring, and a fugitive from America since the exposure of that ring ten years ago, died at Marseilles, France, Sunday afternoon. He was attended only by his son, Townsend Connolly, and the latter's wife, a native of Marseilles. He had long suffered from Bright's disease, and submitted to several painful surgical operations, which afforded him no permanent relief. The last few years of his life were years of great physical agony, which was intensified by the knowledge that he was a fugitive from his home and could never see it again. He was an old man when he died from this city, and his eight years of wandering told severely on him. He was 70 years old when he died.

Many stories have been circulated concerning Connolly's greed, but these tales may all be traced to men who sought in one way or another to overreach him; but he was a man of sagacity and shrewd common sense. He was not given to vulgar show or extravagance, and his social life was above reproach. The influence of his stumble and high minded wife was felt in his household, and was ever exerted in behalf of noble and charitable projects. Connolly's steaming from the Treasury amounted to $2,000,000 to $5,000,000. His friends claim that the stories were greatly exaggerated, and that he had only a moderate fortune at the time of his death. His wife became almost unendurable of late years, and he made several overtures for settlement, offering $100,000, and being willing to give $500,000, but $1,000,000 was demanded, and he said that he could not raise that amount. He leaves three children.

NEW WORK FOR WOMEN.

How an Ohio Girl Entered Upon Dentistry as a Profession.

From the Cincinnati Commercial.

The number of new occupations in which women are finding—or making—their way is almost phenomenal to the devotees of the old regime, who cannot conceive of a woman's holding any stronger implement than a needle. It is reserved for an Ohio girl to take a leading role in a profession that is comparatively a new one for women—dentistry.

For some weeks the passers-by on Seventh street have observed on the block opposite Shadach's a sign that reads: "Adelia Riley, Dentist." Drifting in to see Miss Riley, one finds a pleasant, graceful young lady, with a story to tell you about the way she became a dentist. Miss Riley is from Hamilton, Ohio, where she first studied her profession under Dr. Howell, the father of Dr. May Howell, of this city. The family of the Howells are all somewhat remarked for invariable energy of purpose. In Mr. W. H. Howells, of the Atlantic Monthly, this energy became the motive power of literary work. In Dr. Howell, of Hamilton, and his daughter, Miss May, one of the lady physicians here, it has impelled into professional life. Misses Emma and Corinne Howells are teachers in the public schools of St. Louis, and very superior teachers these young ladies are. After finishing a school course Miss Riley went to her home in Hamilton, and like Cleopatra de Vere, felt time hang heavy on her hands. There was absolutely nothing for her that was worth doing.

"I think it is the worst thing in the world for a girl to have nothing to do," remarked Miss Riley, "and I began to grow very uneasy over it. The most that I attempted was to read novels." And entertaining as this may be, the young lady found she could hardly make it a serious business of life.

One day her father asked her if she would like to study dentistry. She caught at the idea eagerly.

"I went into it with all manner of enthusiasm," said Miss Riley, "and I think it is a beautiful work."

One could not but think of horrible clamps and instruments of torture, but evidently these had no part in the young lady's vision.

After studying at Hamilton under Dr. Howell, she came to the Ohio Dental College, on College street, and took the course, setting up herself as a professional dentist only last month. The pleasant parlor, with its bay window, its book case, writing table and easy chairs, is more suggestive of a lady's room than of an office, save for the great dental chair that tells its own story.

"Do you find that you have the strength to pull teeth?" was inquired.

"Yes, if necessary," she replied, "but really it is very seldom that is necessary. Dental science has discovered so many ways that are better, and we restore the imperfect tooth rather than extract it."

Miss Riley spoke with appreciation of the kindness of experienced dentists who are located in that vicinity to her, and that in case of indecision or unusual intricacy she could turn to them for any counsel and aid. Next year Miss Riley intends to enter upon a thorough medical course, not with a view of re-establishing dentistry as a profession, but of perfecting it. She believes the general state of the system so closely affects all dental operations that an understanding of it is essential to the best success in her chosen profession, in which she is an enthusiast.

It is the women who quietly go to work, and do their work well, who are proving the possibilities of womanly work. One such practical demonstration is worth a dozen platform lectures that grow eloquent over "the cause." And yet, looking backward and over the noble women of the lecture field, one cannot speak lightly of them. When Miss Susan B. Anthony was in Chicago, about to address a large audience some time ago, Mrs. Sullivan, of the Chicago Times, was invited to present Miss Anthony to the audience. Mrs. Sullivan said she could not as she was not a pronounced believer in suffrage. It was a subject which she held in reserve as an important one, but regarding which she had no fixed convictions. The committee said that for that very reason they wished her to introduce Miss Anthony. To which Mrs. Sullivan replied that it would give her great pleasure to do so, and in the introductory words she said that here—in Miss Anthony—was the woman whose brave words and fearless energy had pioneered the way and made special work possible to the women who came after her.

Specialties in life are now fashionable, to a weak word where one might use a stronger. Women who do not work for a living still work for its own sake, and find, after all that it is well to get work, and better than what they work to get.

SHORT STORY.

Some six summers since, sagacious Shadrach Stevens, suddenly suspended several stupendous speculative schemes. Seeing stocks so steadily sinking, scarcely salable, Shadrach swore severely, saying such stagnation, such shocking stringency staggers sharpest speculators.

Sarah Stevens, Shadrach's sole surviving, self-satisfied, sedate, spinster sister, sat serenely stitching some showy slippers; suddenly she started, screaming—"Stop! such swearing shocks acerbous sensibilities; suppress such sinful speeches!"

Shadrach stood stone-still some sixty seconds, silently surveying spunky, sharp spoken sister.

Sarah: Summer showers soon subside; so sparkling sunshine soon expels sultry stormy skies.

Shadrach and Sarah sensibly seek Wheelock's spacious, superbly supplied store, strolling Main street, seeing storm sign, Shadrach and Sarah sauntered in.

Smooth-spoken, sensible salesmen, smilingly salute stately Sarah. She selects super Souvenirs, Sangers, Super Satts, Saco bags, Salads, Sweepers, Silver-ware, Swinging-baskets, splendid Ceramics; Shadrach secures Safety-jamp, servable Spoons, Shears, Scissors, Shaving-tins, Superior Statuary. (Shadrach sees stately emblem in statuary.) Saltcellars, Syrup pitchers, Soda-tumblers, Smady Staple Specialties.

Shadrach's spot specie settlements seem satisfactory. Shadrach stopped swearing, stopped stitching stimulative spirits, sensibly saves super Shadrach's sumptuous surroundings. Satisfaction seems secured! octidaly

Carr, three miles from here, and were en-tained hospitably. Strawberries, cream and cake were furnished in great abundance. The larger part of the company went from here, but there was a good attendance also from the Junction. From the latter place were Mr and Mrs R. J.
Greenman, Mrs C. S. Button and others, whose presence always gives cheer to any company. Mr Collins the pianist and organist, together with Miss Havens and others entertained the company with excellent music. But the rare feature of the evening was the rain which set in about ten and did not subside until after one a.m. It appeared about midnight that the west concourse of visitors must necessarily remain Mr Carr's guests for the night, and hence must be entertained, for to furnish beds for 60 or 75 was beyond the capacity of our generous host and hostess, and therefore amusements had to be found with which to while away the night. Fortunately, Mr. Craw and his brother from Illinois were present, and with the aid of Mr. Collins, Miss Howe, our sedate and thoughtful pastor, and others, charades, etc. were improvised. The rain abated shortly before two a.m., and old and young, deacons and pastor, the sober and gay, with grateful hearts wended their way home with the one feeling, that this was one of the most enjoyable
sojourns they had ever attended.

The society drama "Cast" will be presented at College chapel on Tuesday evening next, June 8th, under the auspices of the Literary Societies. In the cast published last week the name of B. H. Welch was omitted. He takes the character of GEYERIDGE. This entertainment is for the benefit of the piano fund, and everybody should attend. Good music will be furnished.

Admission 25 cents.

The strawberry and ice cream festival
at the Congregational church last Tuesday evening was not as liberally patronized as it would have been had there been a more general notice. It was a pleasant affair and the berries and cream were good to take.

Milton will be "largely" represented at the Milwaukee Reunion. Squre Obura is going.

Pathmaster Davidson has been running a gravel train on the Janesville road to the great benefit of that highway.

Consumers indulge in a great howl over the new oil law as it adds five cents a gallon to the price.

Sheep were immersed last week much to their disgust when out in Saturday's storm.

The entertainment at College chapel on Thursday evening, under the direction of Miss A. M. Johnson, was accorded a liberal patronage, the audience being as large as the chapel could accommodate.

The music of the evening was very good but most of the selections were too lengthy.
The exercises by the pupils were pleasing and the programme by the little folk was gone through with without a break. Miss Johnson is entitled to great credit for the success which the choir achieved, she having devoted much time to rehearsing them in their several parts, and the substantial benefit to which accrued from the large attendance.

Was a slight testimonial
on the part of our citizens in recognition of the earnest labor and painstaking efforts of a worthy teacher. Miss Johnson deserves to return her sincere thanks to Mr and Mrs Price for the beautiful bouquet which adorned the stage, and to the ladies and gentlemen who furnished the music of the evening, as well as to all who by their presence and kindly applause contributed to make the entertainment a success in that respect.

It was Mr. Knowles, not Mr. Hoskins, of Janesville, who was resource hunting here.

Pathmaster Fiddell laid nearly three hundred feet of new sidewalk toward the cemetery grounds last week, and if the people who were abundantly able had paid their tax in cash instead of work, as they should have done, there would have been a good walk to the main entrance. We hope that individuals who are not public spirited enough to help on such improvements will do their traveling in the middle of the highway hereafter.

Henry Head and wife and Mrs. Jas-ters, of Albion, were in town last Thursday, the guests of Postmaster Green.

On Friday afternoon the Evansville base ball club, composed of members of that club and the Footville club played a game with our boys, and beat them by a score of seven to three, in a full score of nine innings. The visitors were very strong at the bat, and play a fair fielding game, while our club was not in good practice, and was very weak at the bat.

After the third inning our boys played a good fielding game, and in the last four innings put a cost of whitewash on the visitors each inning. The return game will be played at Evansville this week. The Evansville club are good players, and their gentleness conduct here gained them general approbation.

—Mrs. William Cadwell, of Chicago, is in the city.

The prize drill of the Guards is to take place this evening.

—John Decker will long remember Decoration day. It's a girl.

—Dr. Fish's lecture on the pyramids at Canton's hall to-morrow night.

—Dave Griffin, for assaulting John Connell was to-day fined $3 and costs.

—A number of our citizens left for Chicago this morning, and still there's more to follow.

—The Janesville Horticultural Society meeting will be held to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, at the office of Dimock & Hayner.

—The case of the Clydes, charged with larceny, was called before Justice Nolan this morning. A jury was asked for, and the case was adjourned until afternoon.

—All parties having bills contracted by the Decoration Committee are requested to present the same to H. A. Smith for the approval necessary before payment.

—Mr. W. H. Hoyt, the young man who was run over by No. 2 engine on the 20th of May, was able to be out on the street yesterday. He is rapidly gaining strength.

—Mrs. P. Burk, the mother of Mr. Garret Veeder, and Mrs. F. W. Leland, of Chicago, Mrs. Veeder's sister, are in the city, called hither by the sad affliction which has lately come to the family.

—Justice Nolan has provided his office with an alarm clock, and if the Court and parties interested in a case forget all about the time for adjournment "the wild alarm bell" will remind them it is meal time.

—The recital of the musical pupils of Prof. Titcomb and Mrs. St. John is to be held at the Congregational church to-night. A dime admission will be charged to defray expenses. The entertainment promises to be of much interest.

—Some light fingered fellow has stolen one of the silver cups, belonging to Heinrich's soda fountain. As it is merely an open cup for holding the soda glass, it is of little use except for that purpose. The taker will do well to return it.

—Chief Marshal Whiting desires us to give public expression of the thanks due Mr. H. S. Woodruff for his thoughtfulness and kindness in boarding over the muddy places on yesterday's line of march. Those on foot appreciated the favor greatly.

—Charles E. Zeininger is now Assistant Train Dispatcher of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. His many friends here will be glad to learn of his promotion, and will rejoice with those who do rejoice, for he is a young man who earns as well as wins success.

—The Round Table reunion which was to have been held last Saturday night, has been postponed until next Saturday night, when the same programme as that already announced will be carried out. There should be a grand rally at this befitting closing of a pleasant and profitable season.

—The entertainment given by Homer D. Copel last evening at the Opera house, was one of the best of the kind ever presented in this city. His rendition of the play of Damon and Pythias proved him to be an impersonator of wonderful ability, and his pleasing bearing won for him the good will of his audience from the very start. It was no small task for one man to hold the attention of an audience in such a manner for an entire evening, but he not only did this but more. He thrilled them, moved them and charmed them. He is indeed a wonder, and ought to have crowded houses.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

The City Council Confirm the Nomination of James E. Croft as Street Commissioner—The City Marshal still Left Vacant—Tearing Down the Park Fence.

A regular meeting of the City Council was held last evening, the Mayor presiding and all present. After the usual reading and approval of the minutes the City Attorney was called on to give his opinion as to the legality of the meeting on a legal holiday. He said it was all right to hold a meeting and business proceeded.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS, MEMORIALS AND ACCOUNTS.

A bill of James Church for $25, for services in the case of Jones vs. City of Janesville, was presented and referred; also a bill of Ellsworth Hill for $5 damage to his boat at the time of a fire up the river; several bills for services of special policemen; a bill of $3 for flags for the engine houses; the Police Justice's report for May, and sundry other documents.

REPORTS OF STANDING AND SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

The Finance Committee reported adversely on the bill of Charles Carman as special policeman, on the ground of his not being in condition to render satisfactory service. On motion the bill was dismissed.

The same committee reported in favor of the payment of sundry bills and accounts. Ordered paid.

The Park Committee reported in favor of pulling down the fence of the city portion of the Court house park, and it was decided to sell the lumber at auction next Monday.

The Judiciary Committee requested further time to consider the claim of J. Maurice Smith. Granted.

The Judiciary Committee reported in favor of the payment of witnesses in the case of Jones vs. City of Janesville; amounting to $142.68, and also in the case of Horne vs. City of Janesville, amounting to $21.60. Ordered paid.

The same Committee reported the May report of the Police Justice as correct Received and filed.

More time was granted to the Committee having under consideration the matter of an alley in Rockport, and they were instructed to present an intelligible report embracing their opinion of the question.

The Committee to whom was referred the matter of ventilating the City Hall, were granted more time.

FINISHING UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Attorney A. A. Jackson was heard in behalf of the railroad to be built from here to Beloit. He desired to have the city transfer their rights in four lots in the Fifth ward to the railroad company, on the same terms ($250 a lot) on which the Afton road had secured other lots in that vicinity. An order to that effect was carried.

On motion of Ald. Croft, the Fifth ward Alderman, the Judiciary Committee, and City Attorney, were empowered to confer with the companies building roads to Afton and Beloit, in regard to the transfer of tracks adjacent to or crossing any streets, so that the interests and safety of the public might be guaranteed.

The Clerk read the petition of property owners of Block 9, Rockport, asking that a certain alley be vacated. Accepted and placed on file.

The Clerk was instructed to have published the usual notice of vacation of the alley.

Attorney Hendrix was allowed to speak in behalf of Isaac O'Clair, who had pleaded guilty to fast driving and had paid a fine of $9.50 including costs. He desired to have the same remitted as he had unwittingly pleaded guilty, when by the law he was innocent. He was not driving the team, but was simply riding in the buggy, and the man who was driving had paid his fine. The Council remitted the fine.

Joseph Churchill was heard for a moment in regard to certain stories circulated about him, and which he thought had caused the Council to refuse to grant him a saloon license. The Mayor told him that the Council was not a tribunal to settle his character, and Churchill subsided.

The Mayor called attention to the vacant Marshalship. On motion of Ald. Croft, the master was indefinitely postponed.

Ald. Robinson moved that the fine imposed on Andrew Jackson and Howard Venable, for neglecting to bury a horse, be remitted. Carried. Ald. Burns and Conrad voting against it.

THE STREET COMMISSIONERSHIP.

The Mayor stated that he should name three men for Street Commissioner, and there his duty in the matter would end. He named first, H. A. Stone, and a ballot was taken, Ald. Norris, serving as teller. The ballot stood: Yeas 3, Nays 7.

The next named was James E. Croft, and he was confirmed by the following ballot: Yeas 7, Nays 3.

Mr. Croft was formally declared elected Street Commissioner, and immediately after the Council adjourned.

Stowe, who has lately been elected as one of the book agents of the Methodist church, resigns his position as Presiding Elder, of Janesville, district, in order to enter his new duties in Chicago. To supply the vacancy until next October, Rev. A. J. Mead, now pastor of the Algoma street church at Oshkosh, has been chosen. The choice is a good one, as Mr. Mead has the experience and ability, and many friends on this district will gladly welcome him to the work.

TEARS AND TRIBUTES.

A People's Tender Remembrance of the Virtues and Deeds of Its Fallen Heroes.

The Soldiers' Graves Marked by the Red White and Blue and Adorned with Floral Offerings.

A Most Imposing Procession and Parade Joined in by the Military, Civic Societies and Citizens.

An Able Oration by Major S. S. Rockwood, of Whitewater.

The Day Observed in a Most Befitting Manner, and the Arrangements Through-out Crowned with Success.

Details of Decoration Day.

Yesterday morning opened with a darkened sky, with drenching rain, and muddy streets, and it for a time seemed impossible to carry out the elaborate preparations made for observing Decoration day, but to the joy of all the clouds fled swiftly, the sun and soft breeze soon began their work, and ere the afternoon hour, appointed for the ceremonies, both earth and sky were in rather a favorable condition for carrying out the well laid plans.

The Custer Rifles of Whitewater, arrived by special train during the forenoon, and were met by the Janesville Guards and escorted to the Myers house. The Beloit Guards came by teams, and were given quarters at the Grand Hotel. The local societies were kept busy with the closing arrangements, and teams from the adjoining country came rolling in, so that by noon the streets presented a lively appearance.

The column was formed in the afternoon on Main street, near Court, and the line of march was taken along Main street to Milwaukee, then down Franklin street to Pleasant, up Pleasant to the Baptist church, where the decorating committee, flower girls, and others were in waiting.

The procession then completed proceeded along Jackson street to the cemetery.

It was one of the largest and most imposing processions ever seen here, and we doubt not that it was the largest and most imposing seen any where in the State yesterday. The Bower City Band headed the procession, playing a slow march. Following them came the drum corps of the several military companies. Then the First Battalion under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Britton. The Beloit Guards appeared in the regulation uniform of the Wisconsin National Guard, it being blue trimmed with buff. The company presented an excellent appearance, and marched well. The Bower City Rifles, with whose appearance we are more familiar, came next, showing up good and strong. The Custer Rifles, of Whitewater, in their gray uniforms trimmed with blue, came marching along with steady step, a fine looking body of young men. The Janesville Guard, came next, and their friends had no reason to fear for them any comparison that might be made with the other companies. The Fire Department in the blue uniforms with silver buttons, followed St. Patrick's Temperance Band, giving good music, marched along at the head of the St. Patrick's Total Abstinence and Benevolent Society. The Knights of Pythias, perhaps the showiest part of the procession had the next position, fifty strong, all mounted, and with their rich and knightly uniforms called forth the admiration of all. Carriages followed with the orator, chaplain, president of the day, decorating committee, and then came carriages loaded with flowers and maidens, and having banners, bordered with black, and bearing the names of those whose graves were to be decorated. Other carriages contained the city officials, the veteran soldiers, and others entitled to a prominent place, while citizens in carriages and on foot followed the procession. The crowd of people and teams, proceeding toward the cemetery along all the streets, was immense, and the Marshals were kept busy. They did their work well, remarkably well, and despite the crowd, there were no accidents or troubles. At the entrance of the cemetery officers were stationed to keep out the teams not belonging to the procession proper. The procession proceeded to the usual grounds, where the military broke ranks, and the exercises of the day opened. Hon. John R. Bennett presided, and the first number was music by the Bower City Band. Rev. T. P. Sawin offered a short, appropriate prayer, after which the Temperance Band played. The President then introduced Major S. S. Rockwood, as "one of the heroes of the war who survived, and who comes to speak in behalf of those who fell." The orator was greeted with a hearty, welcoming applause, and spoke as follows:

Mr. President, Fellow Citizens, and Old Comrades: As

Men may rise on stepping stones;

Or their dead selves to higher things,

so may nations rise to greater power;

When a nation forgets to honor the memory of its patriotic heroes, the future has nothing in store for it but disaster and decay.

Let once the word go forth that to die for one's country is to go down to a forgotten grave unhonored and unsung,

and the nation's doom is sealed.
